

Kobe City's "Tetsujin-28 Go"

zichi Lorentz 2009

About this book

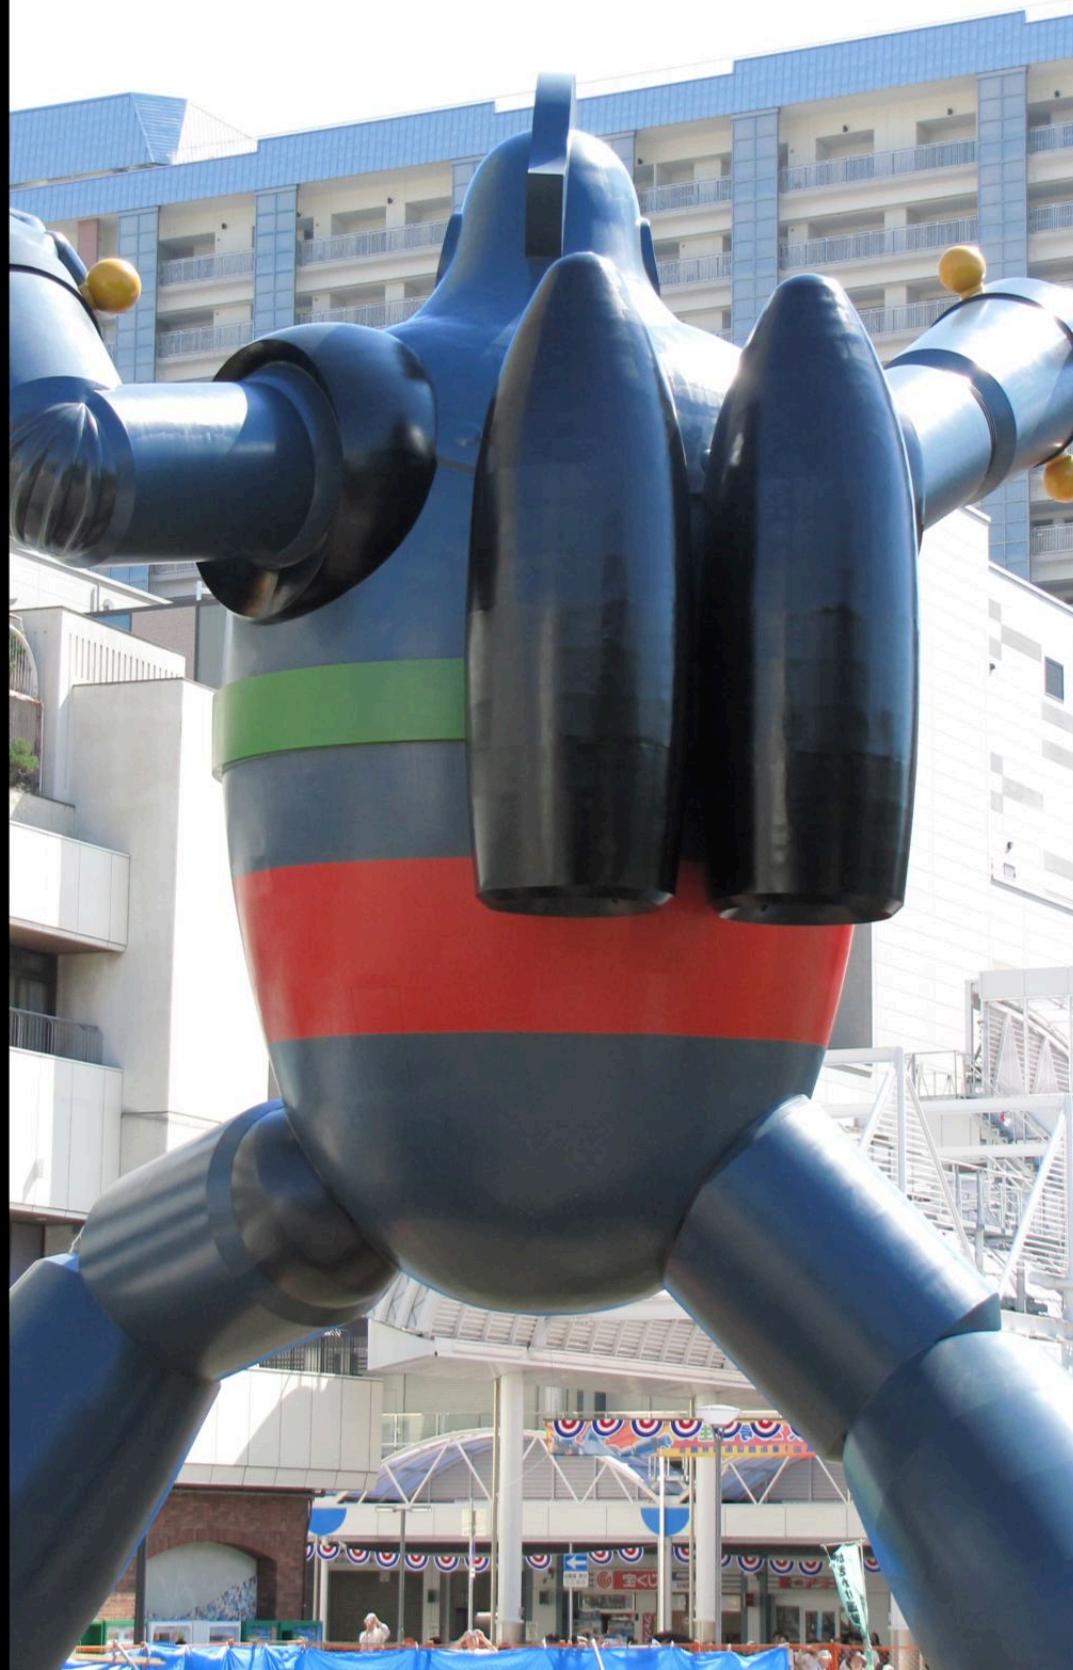

Kobe City's “Tetsujin-28 Go”

Kobe City's new 60 foot (18m) manga statue of the famous character, Tetsujin-28 go, or Ironman, originally created by the late Mitsuteru Yokoyama who was born in Nagata. The project cost ¥135 million ($1.4 million) which was mostly raised from private funding.

It's located in Wakamatsu Park, Shin Nagata which can be reached from the central station of Sannomiya. Shin Nagata is 2 stops after Kobe Station. Come out on the seaside exit, turn right and walk until you see the park on the left.

It is intended as a symbol of the city's revival after the 1995 Kobe Earthquake.

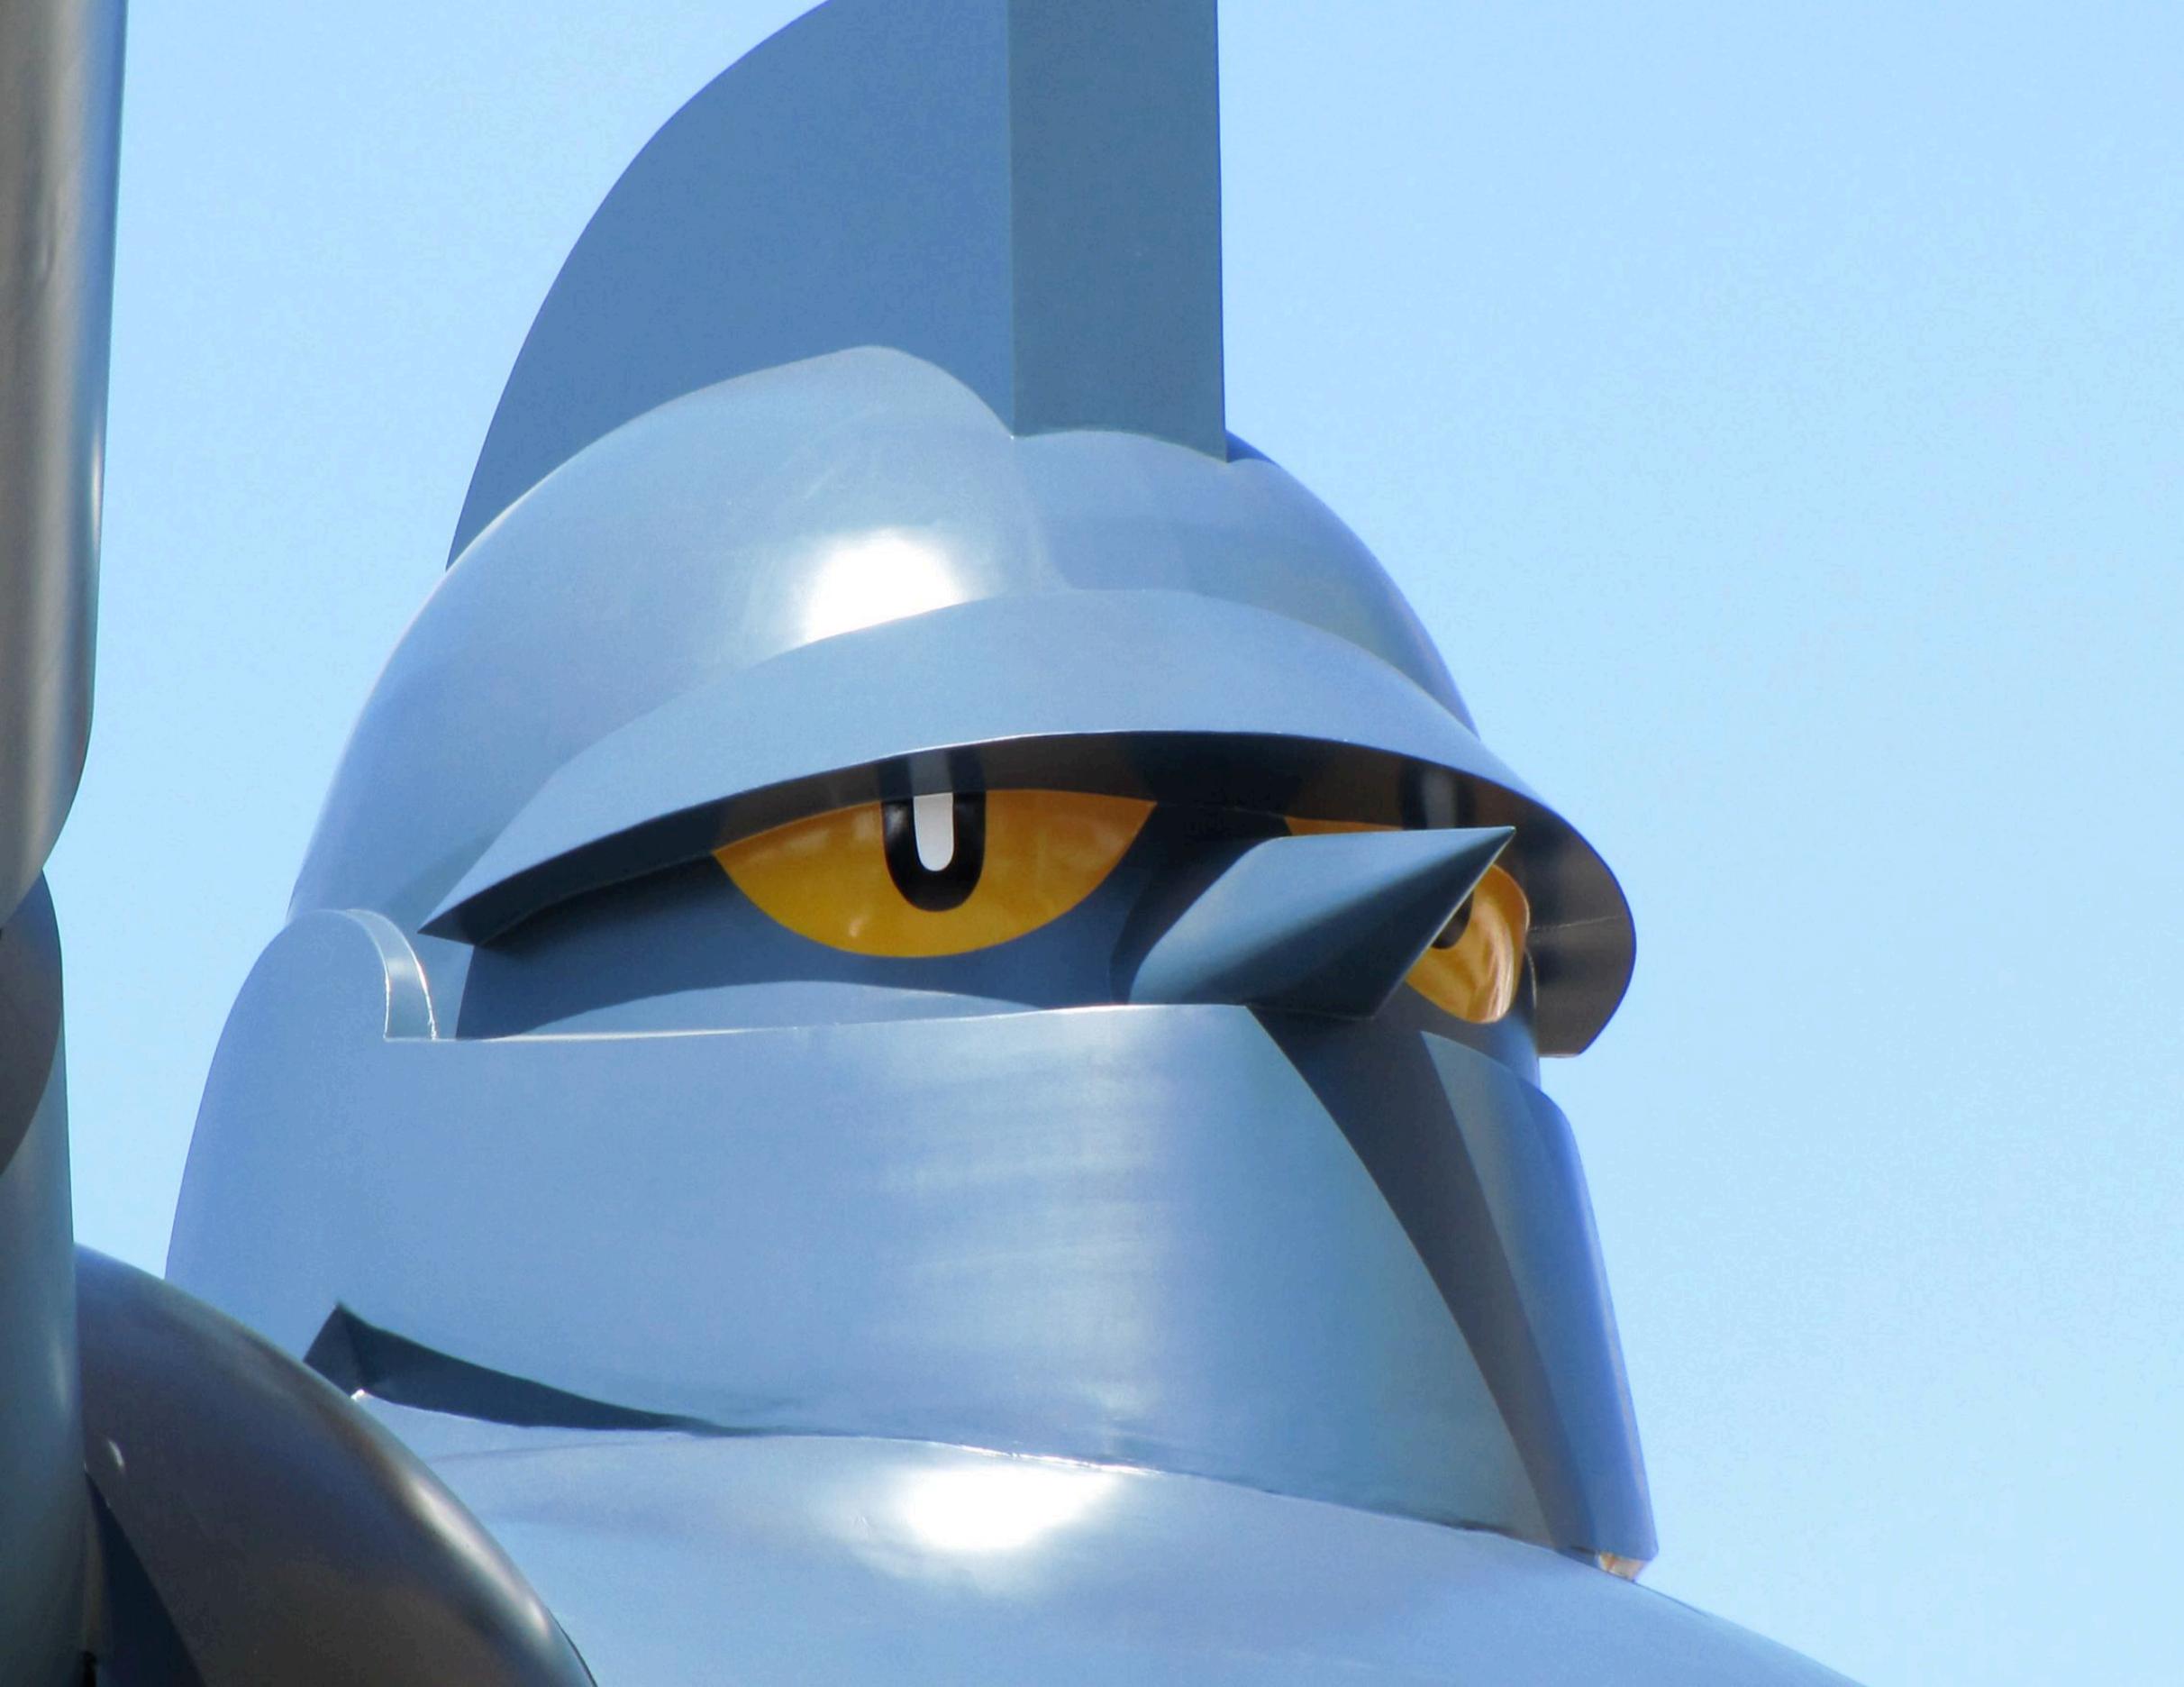

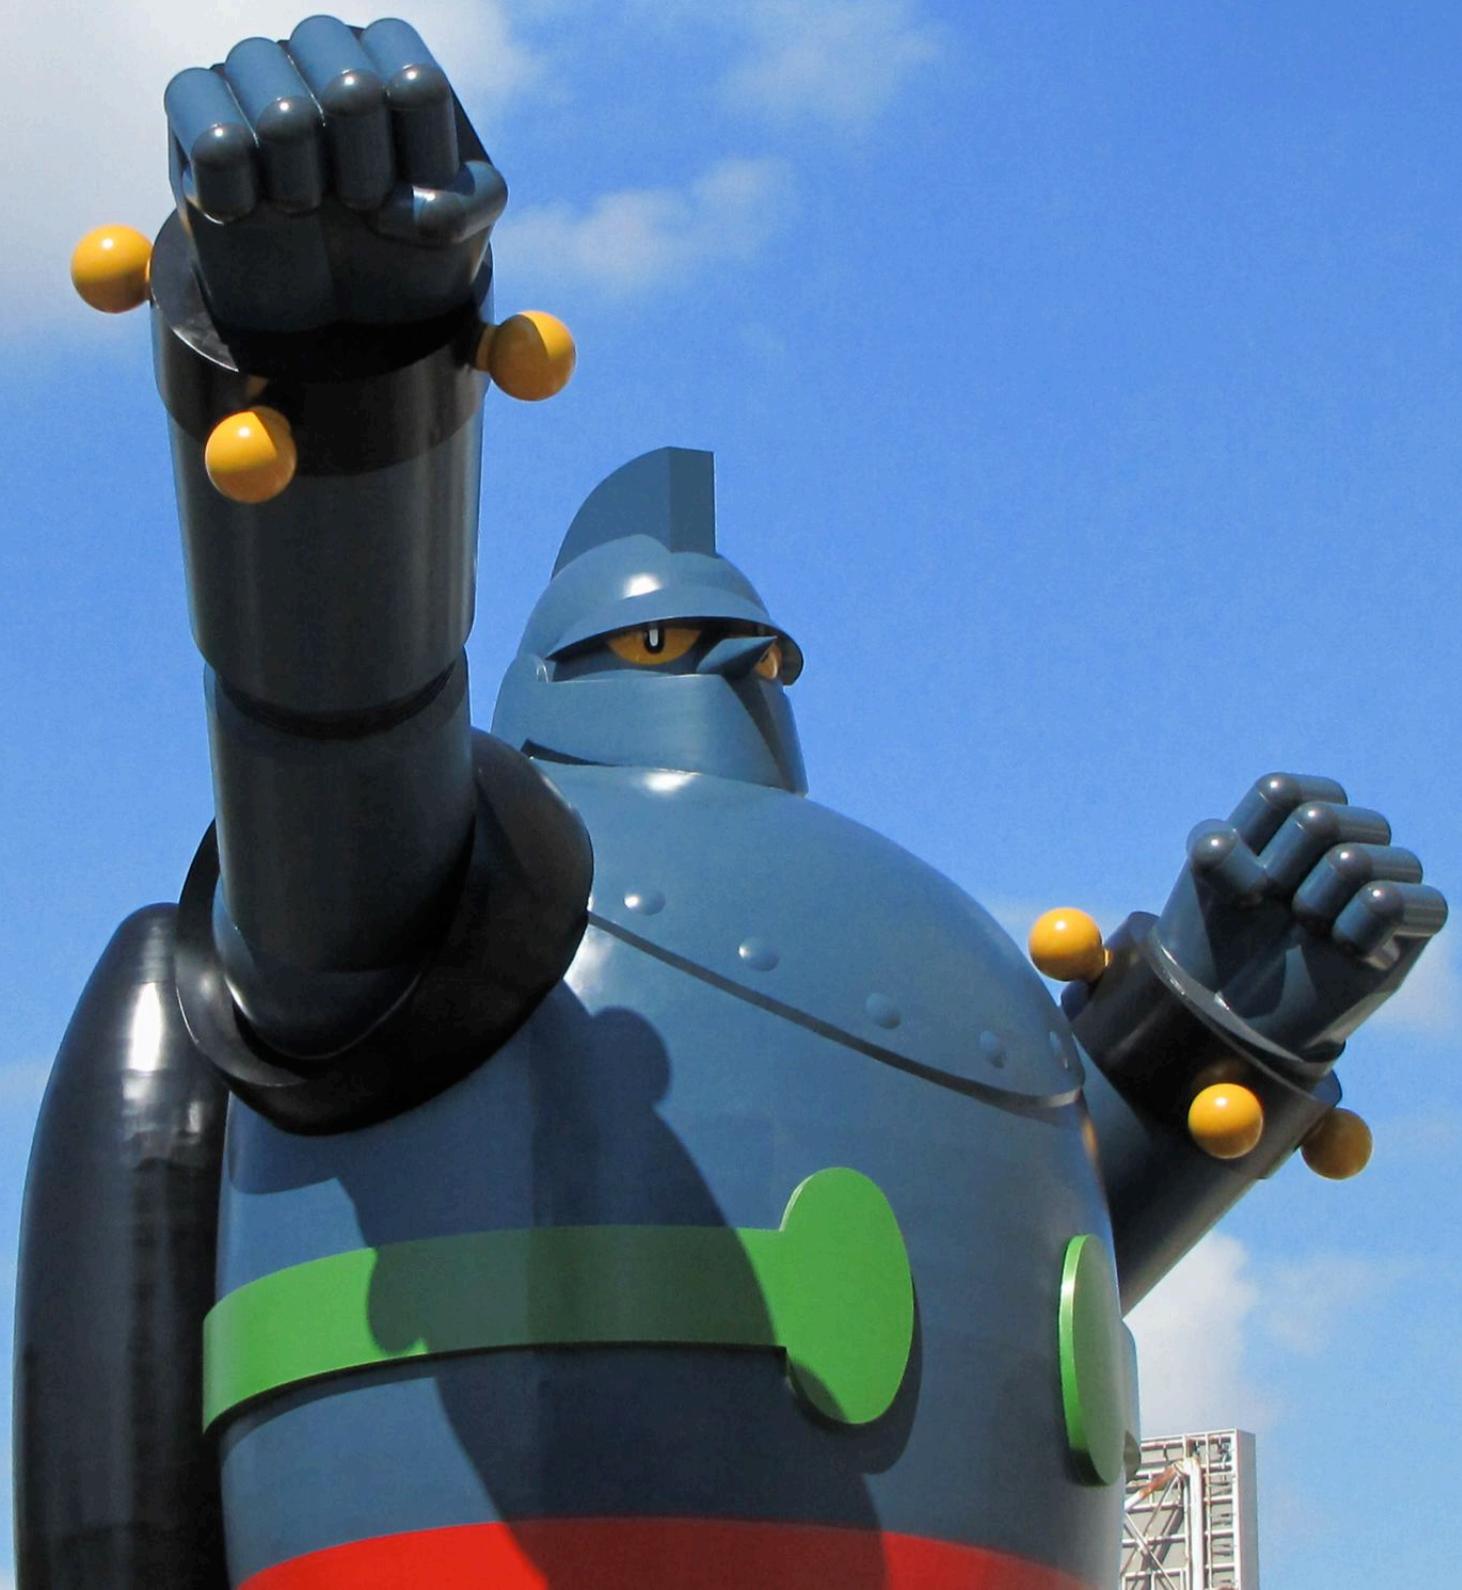

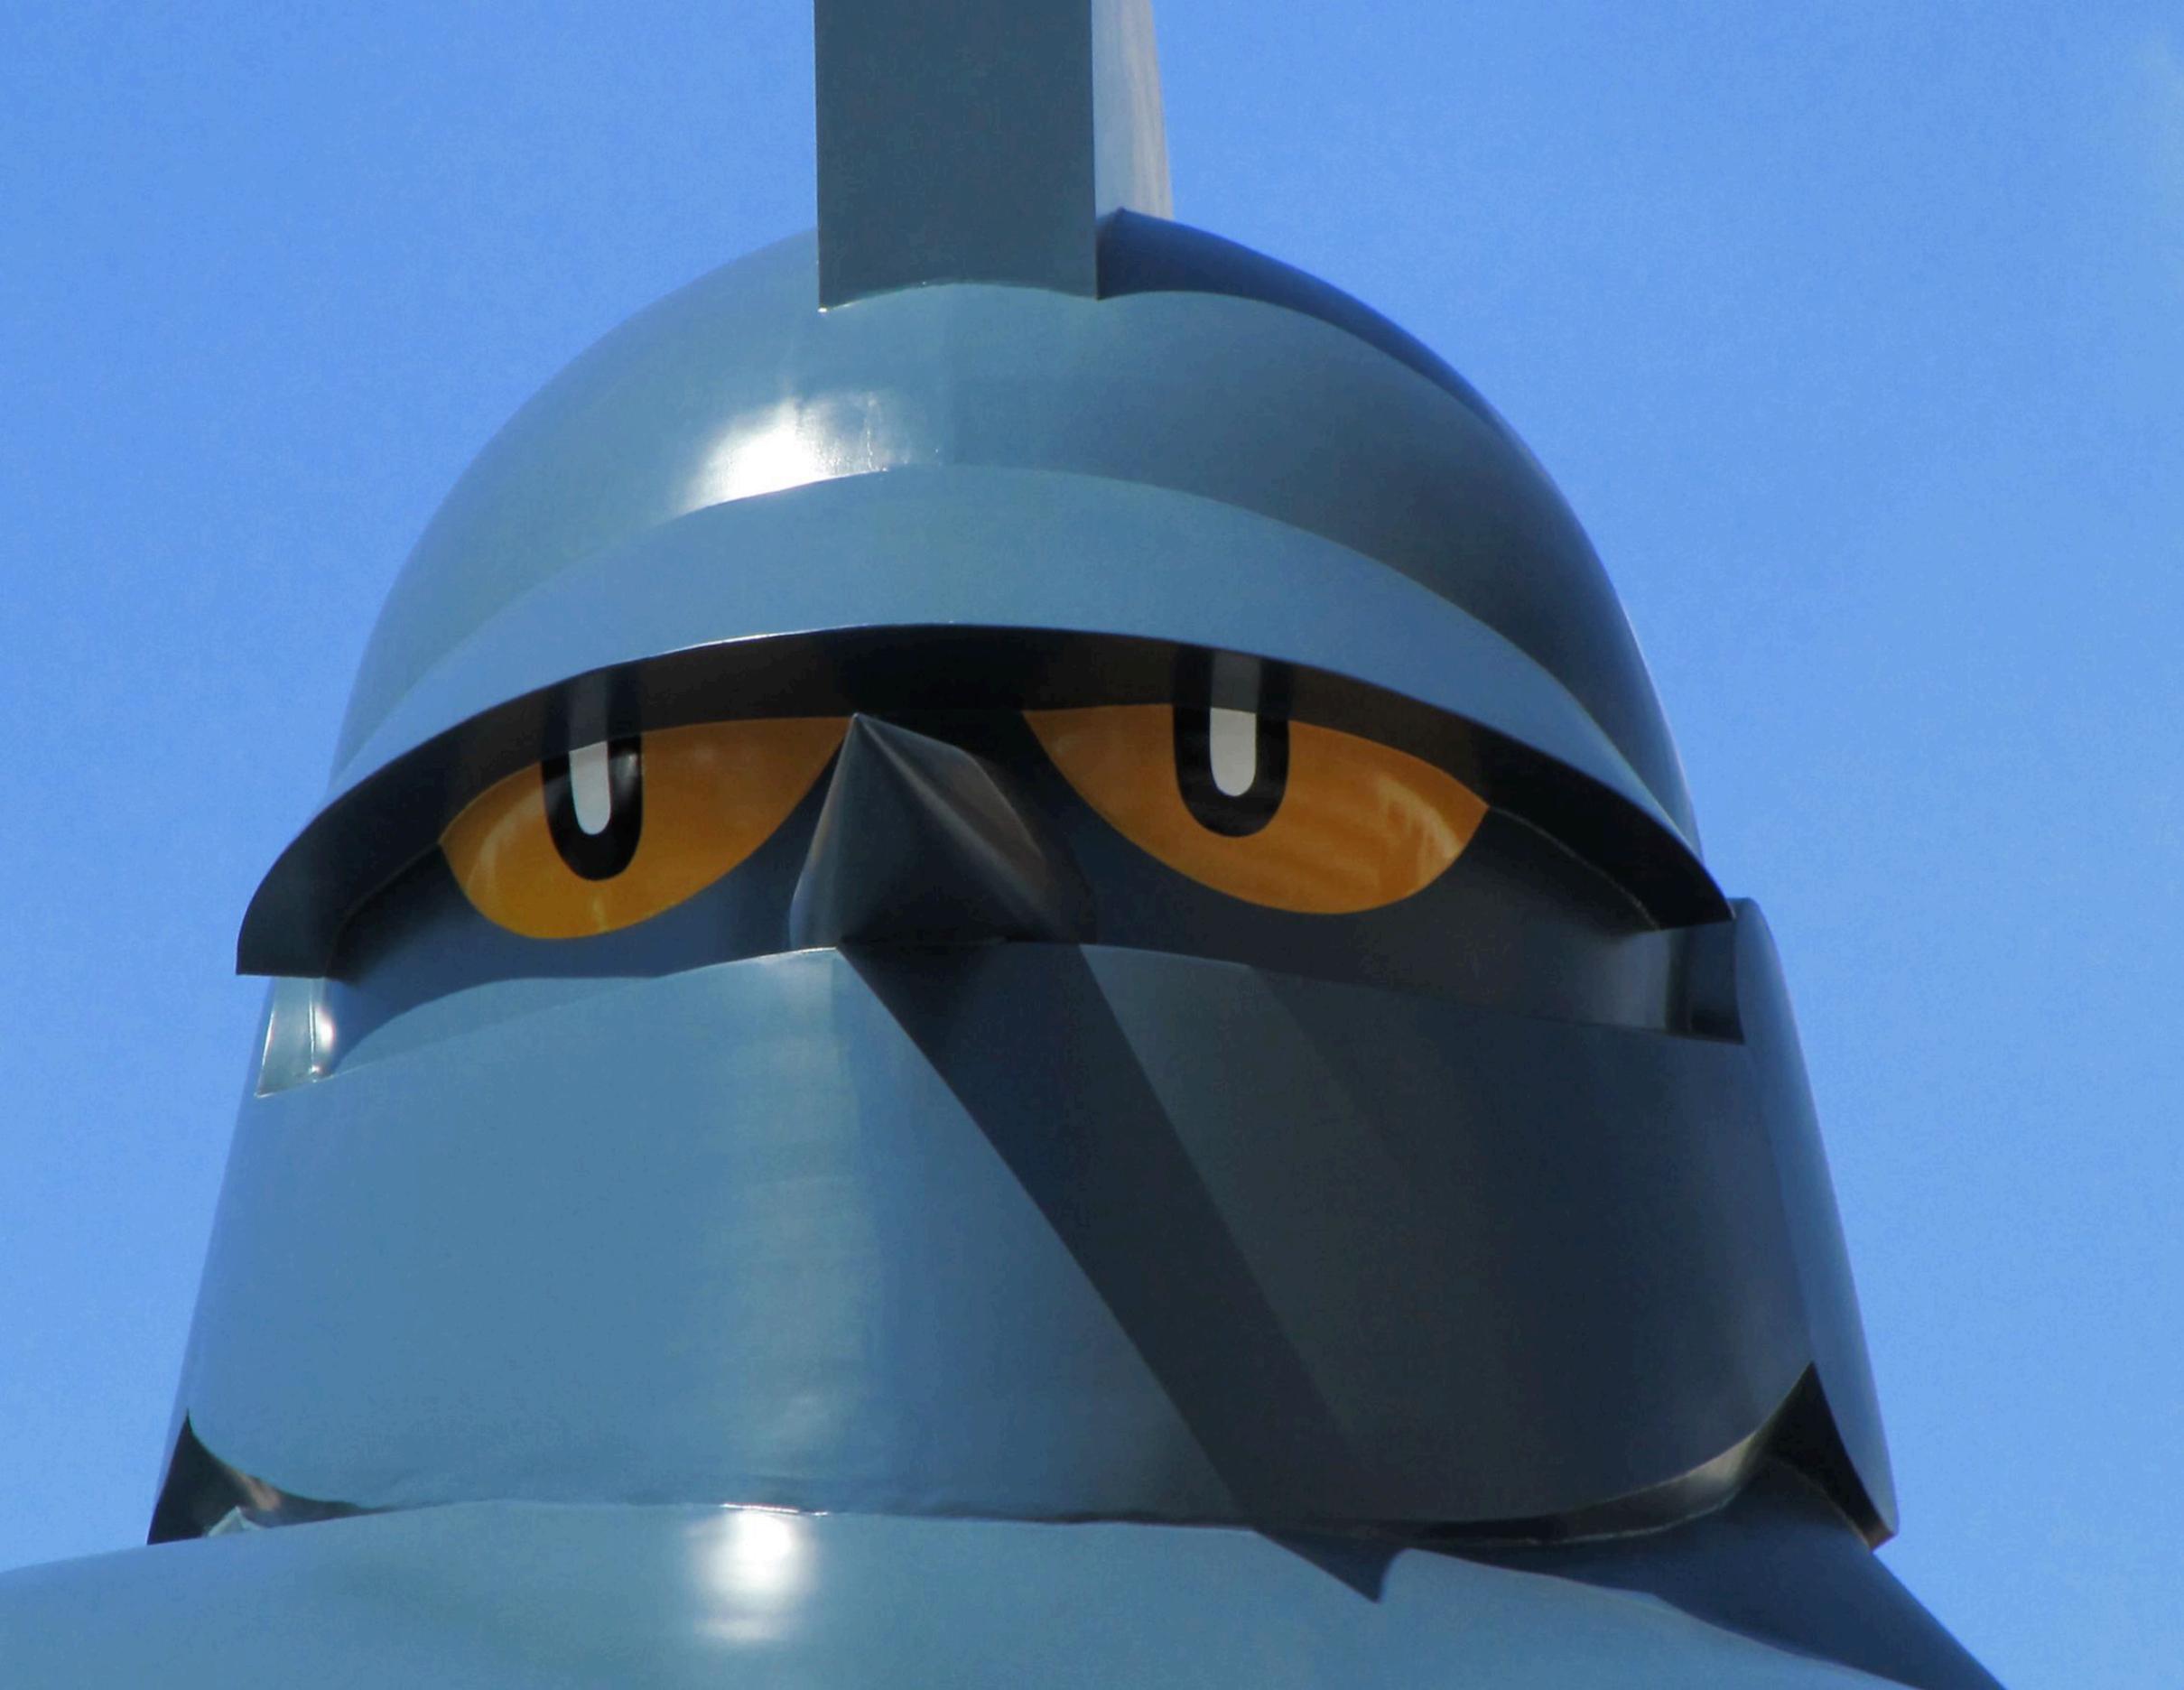

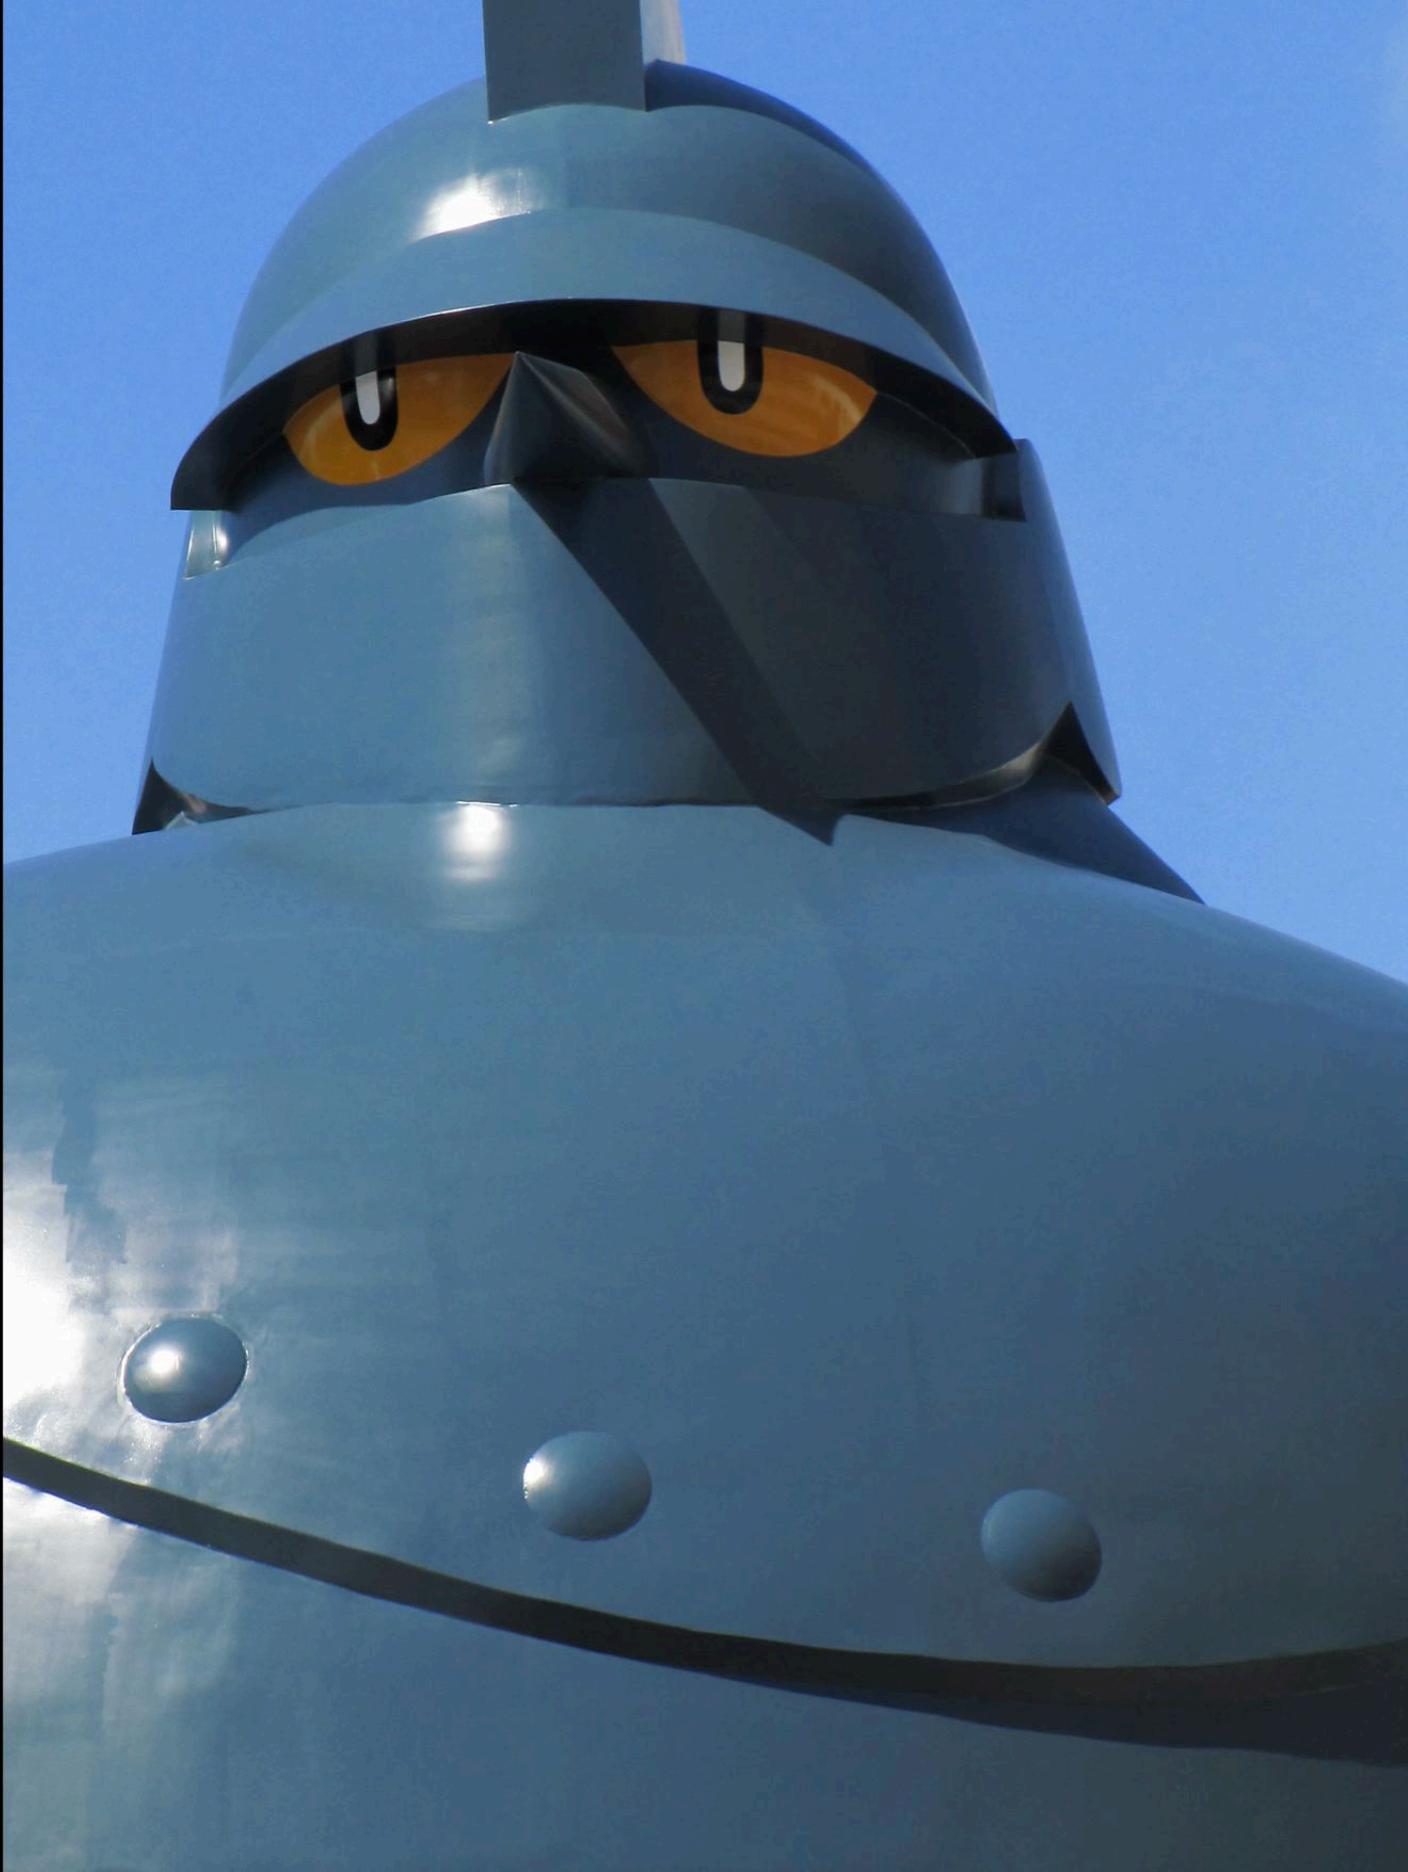

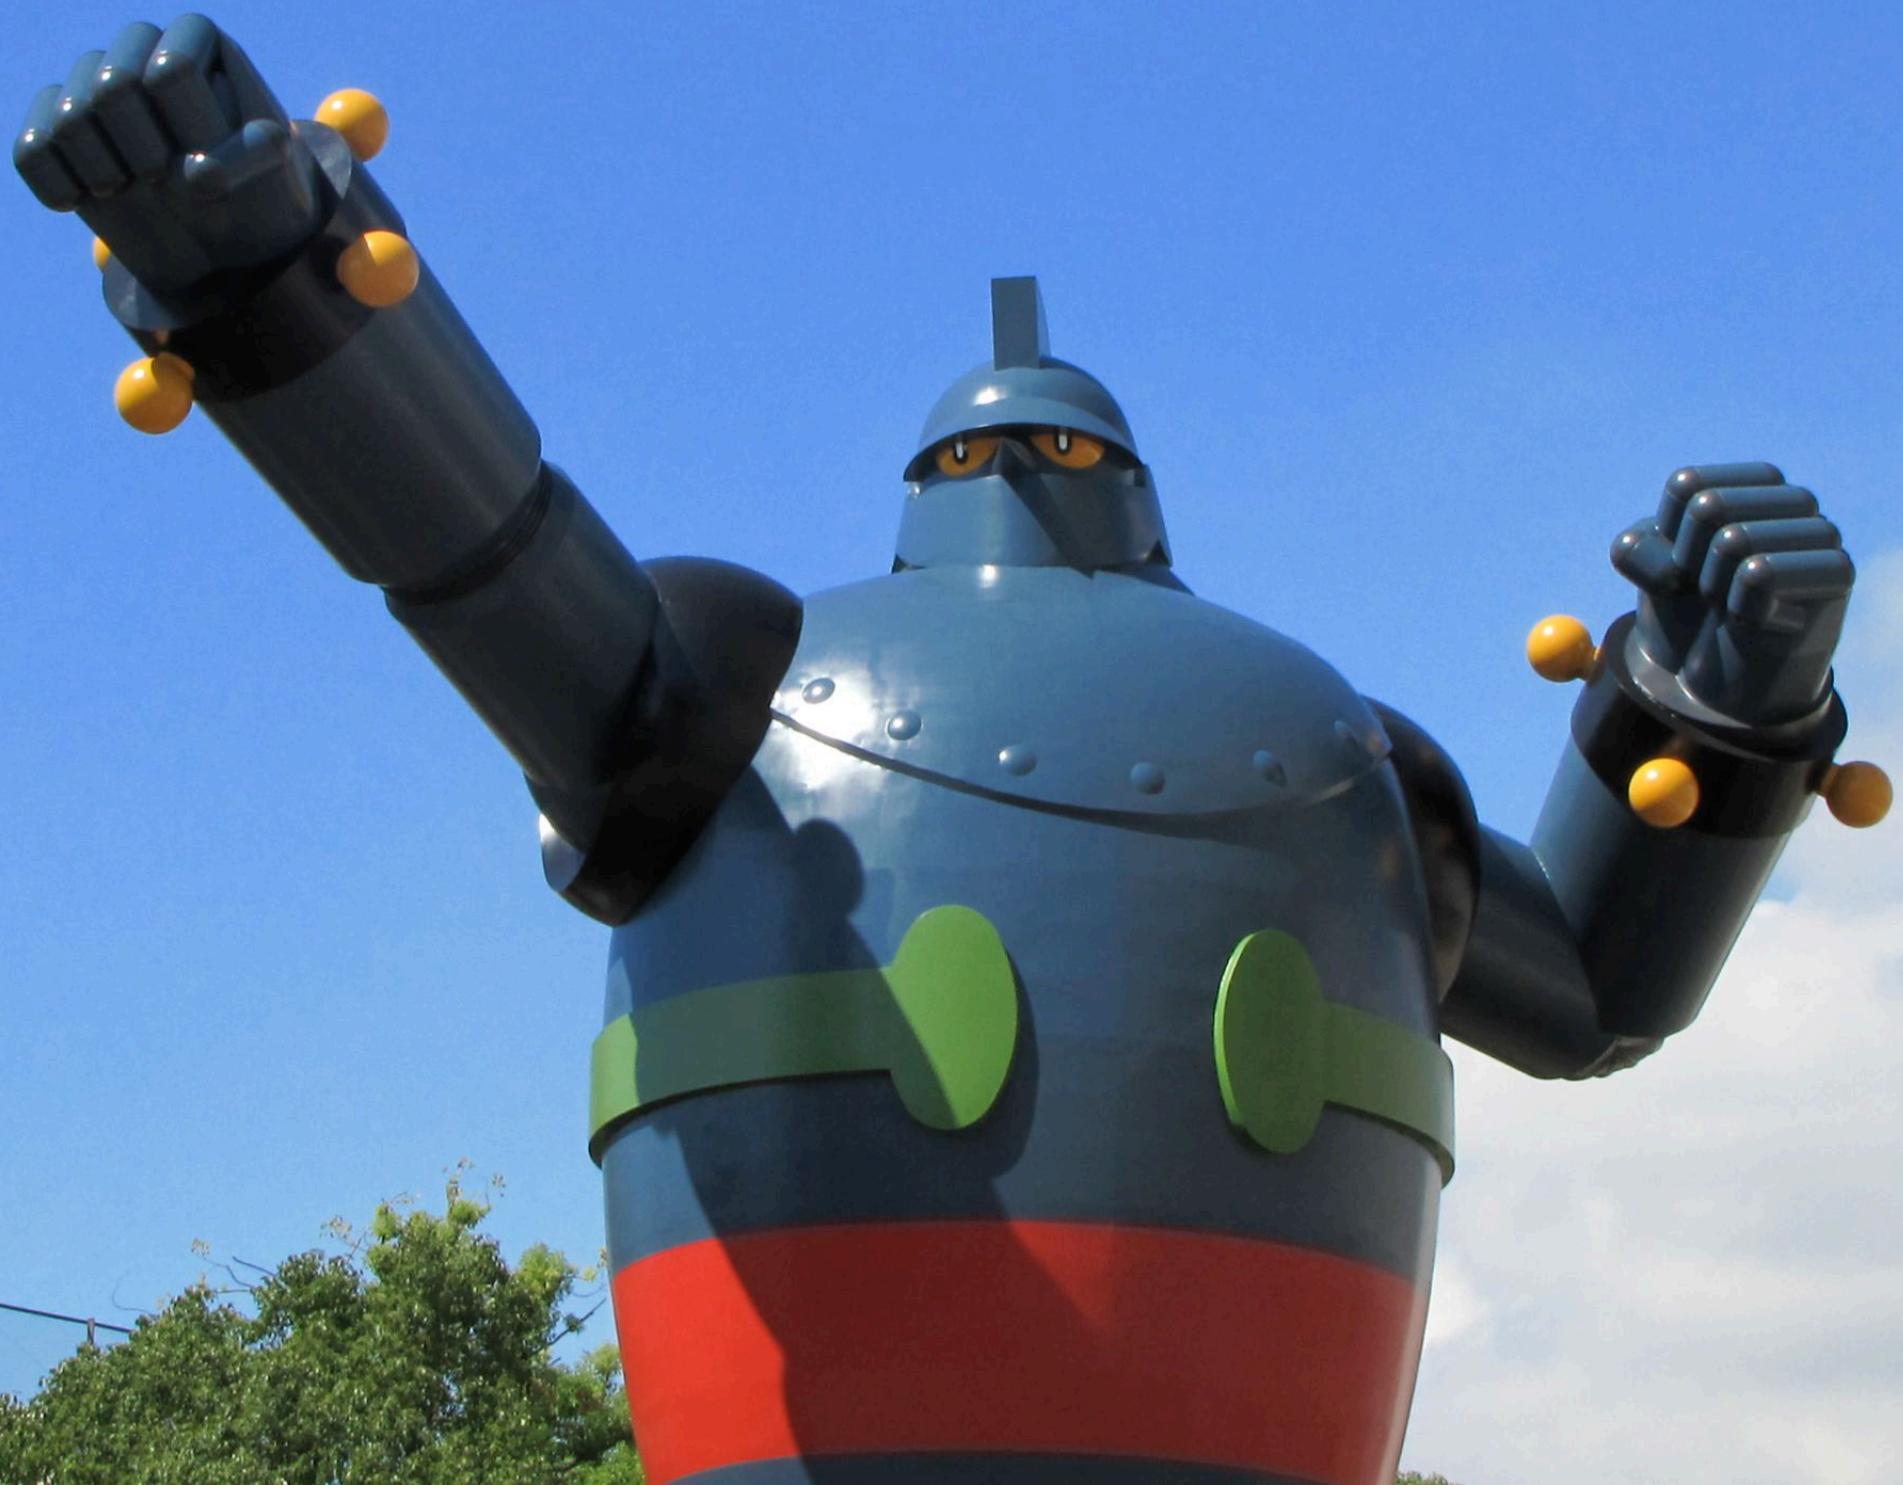

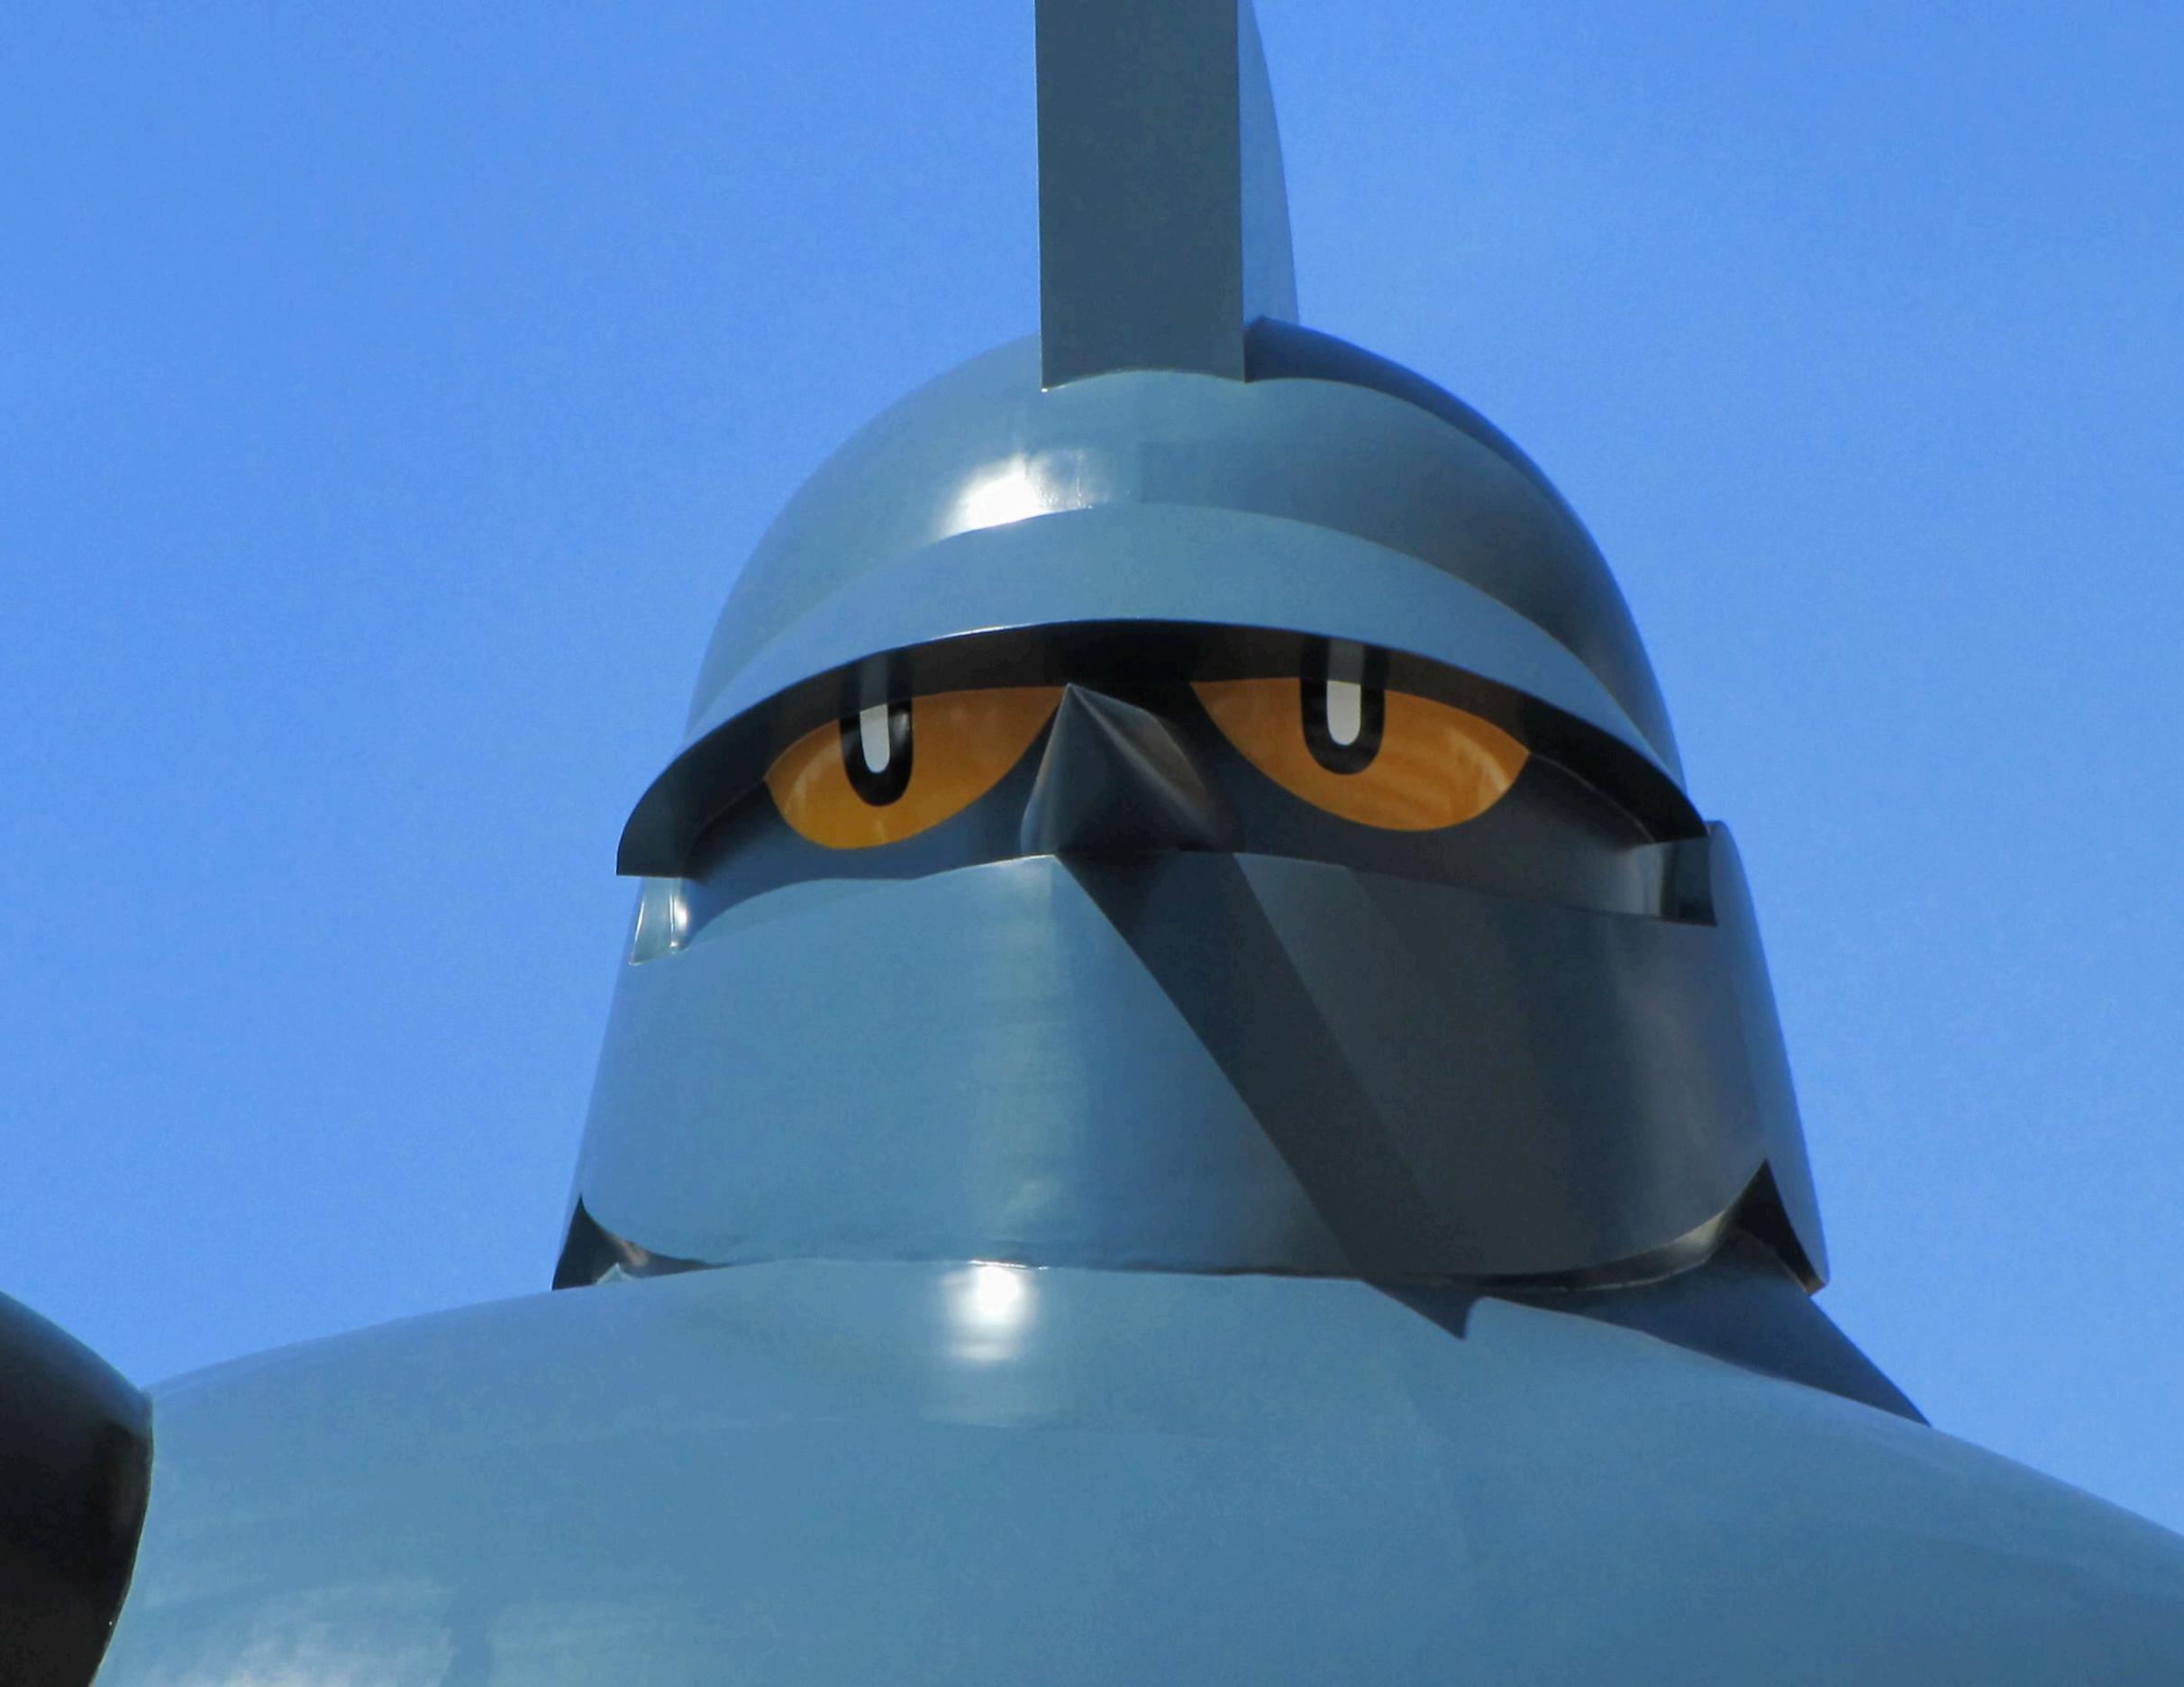

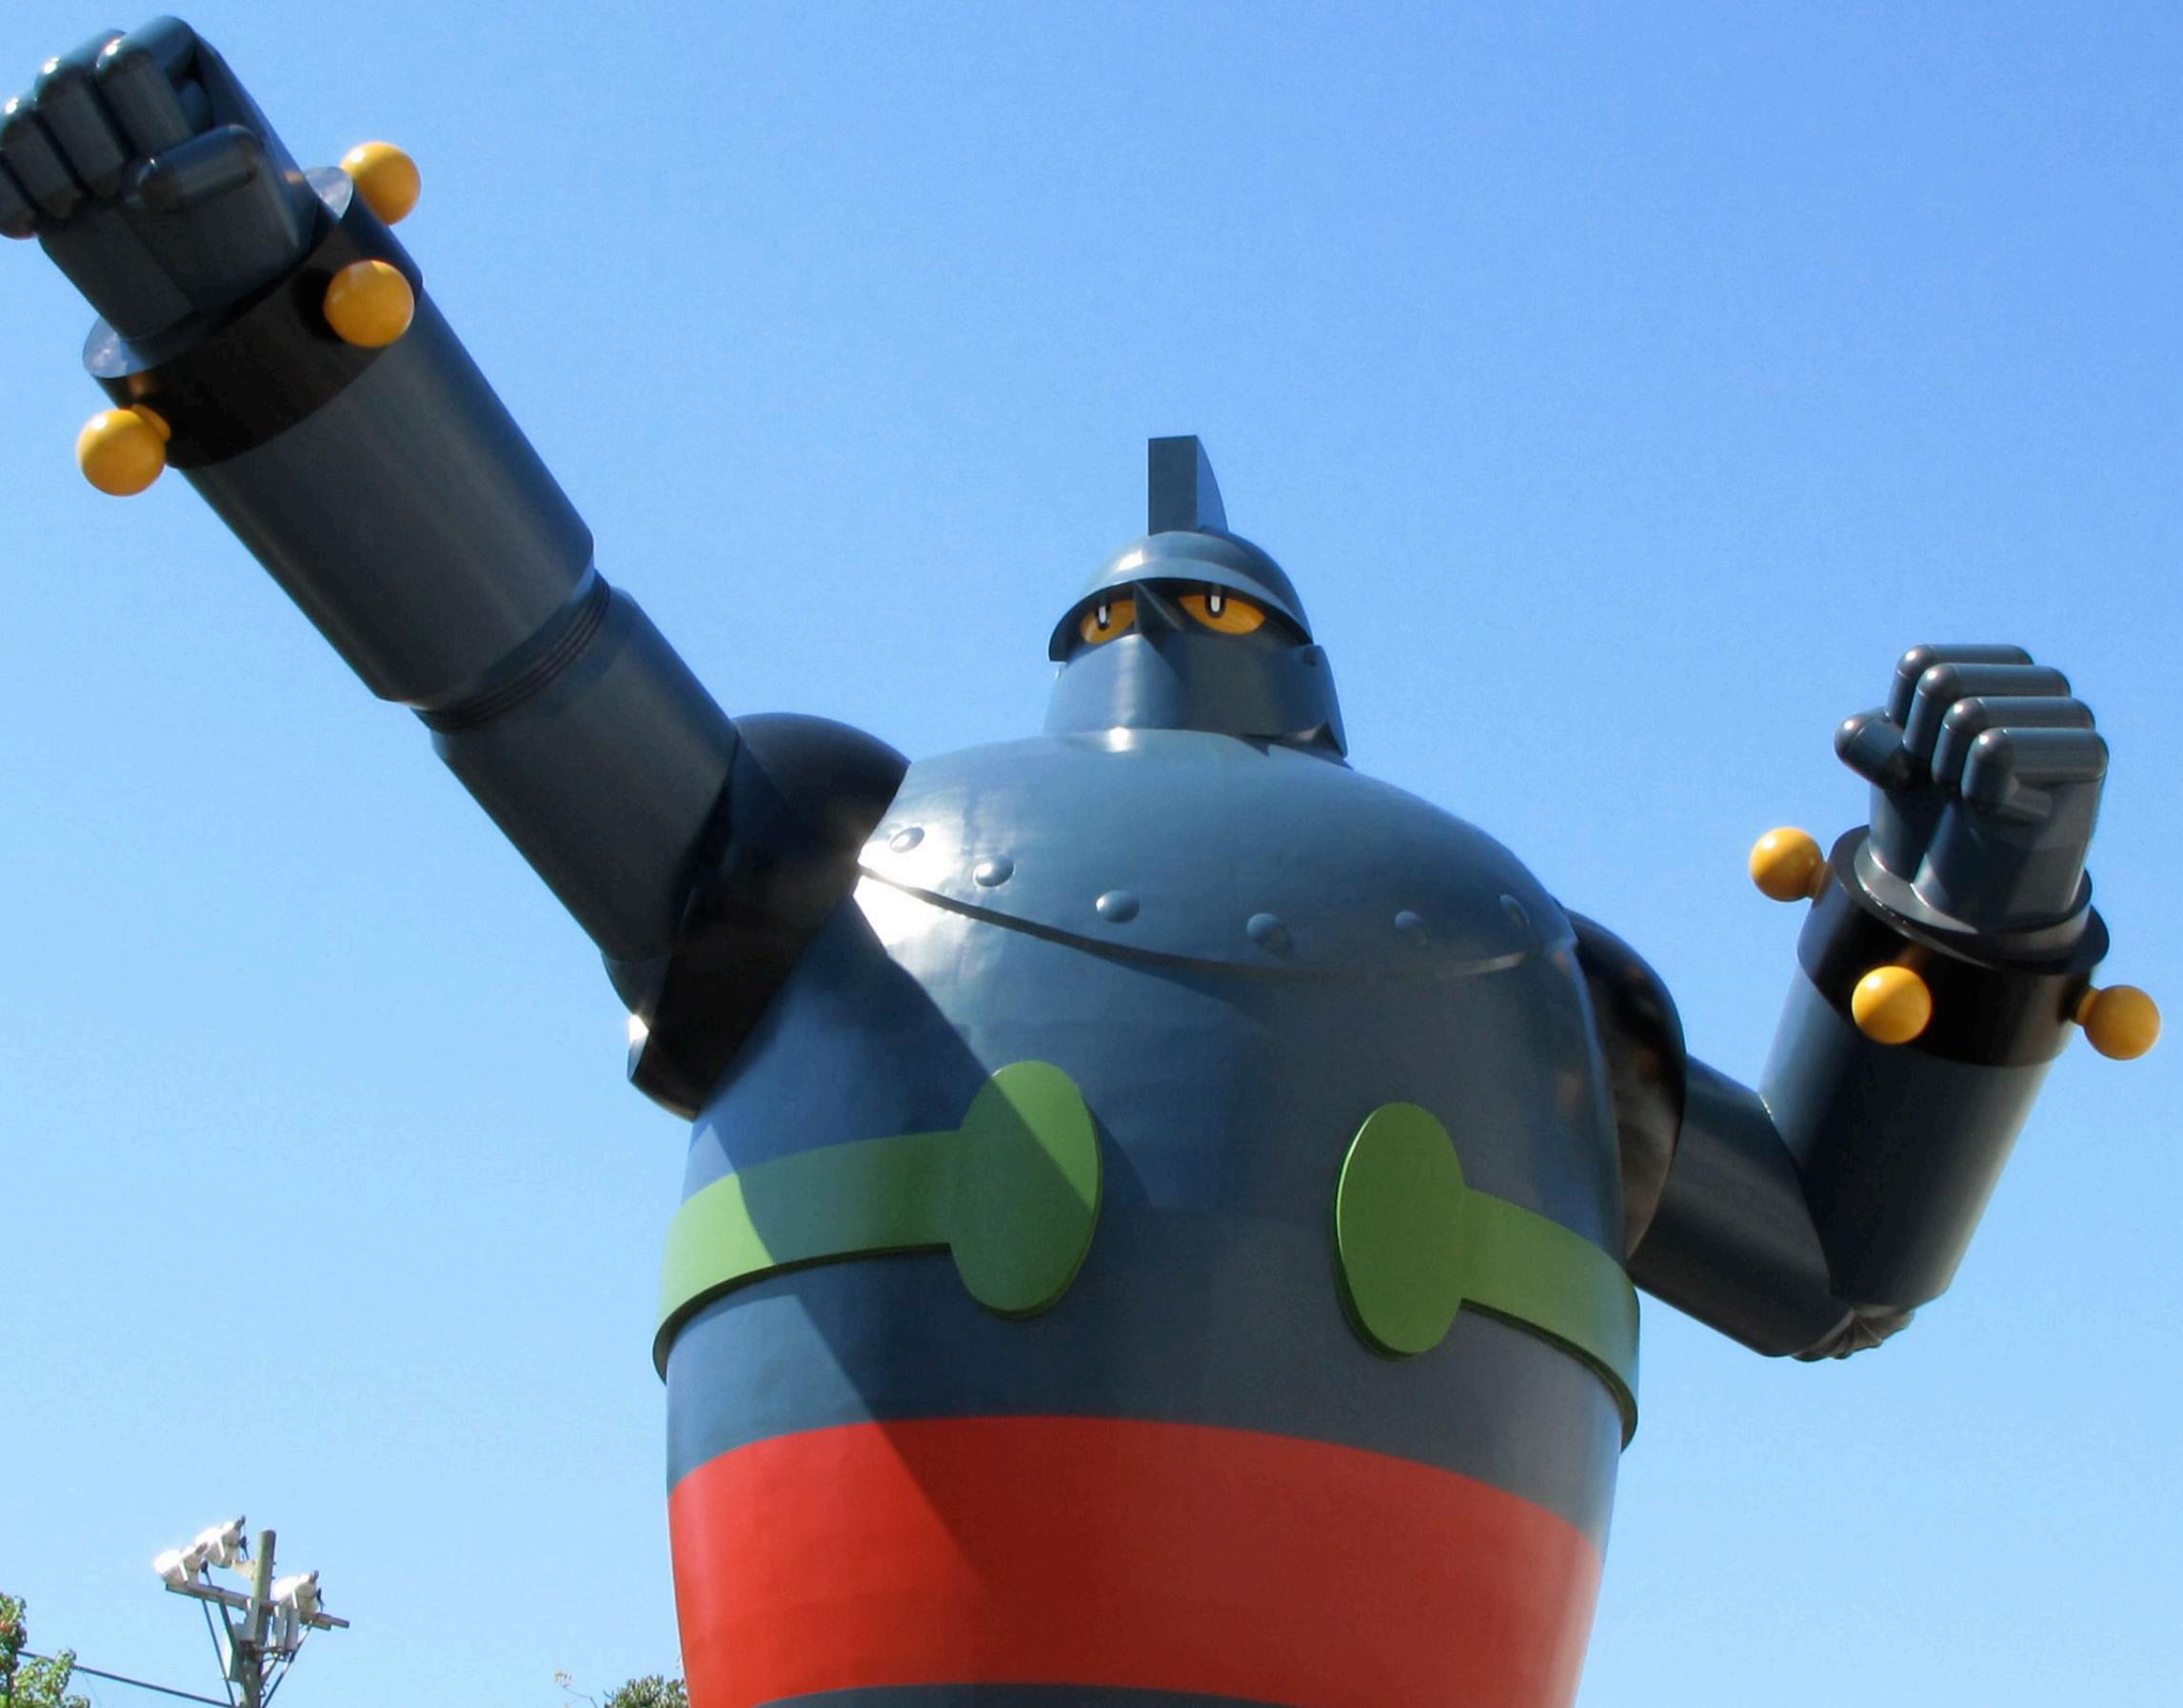

安全第一
作業中

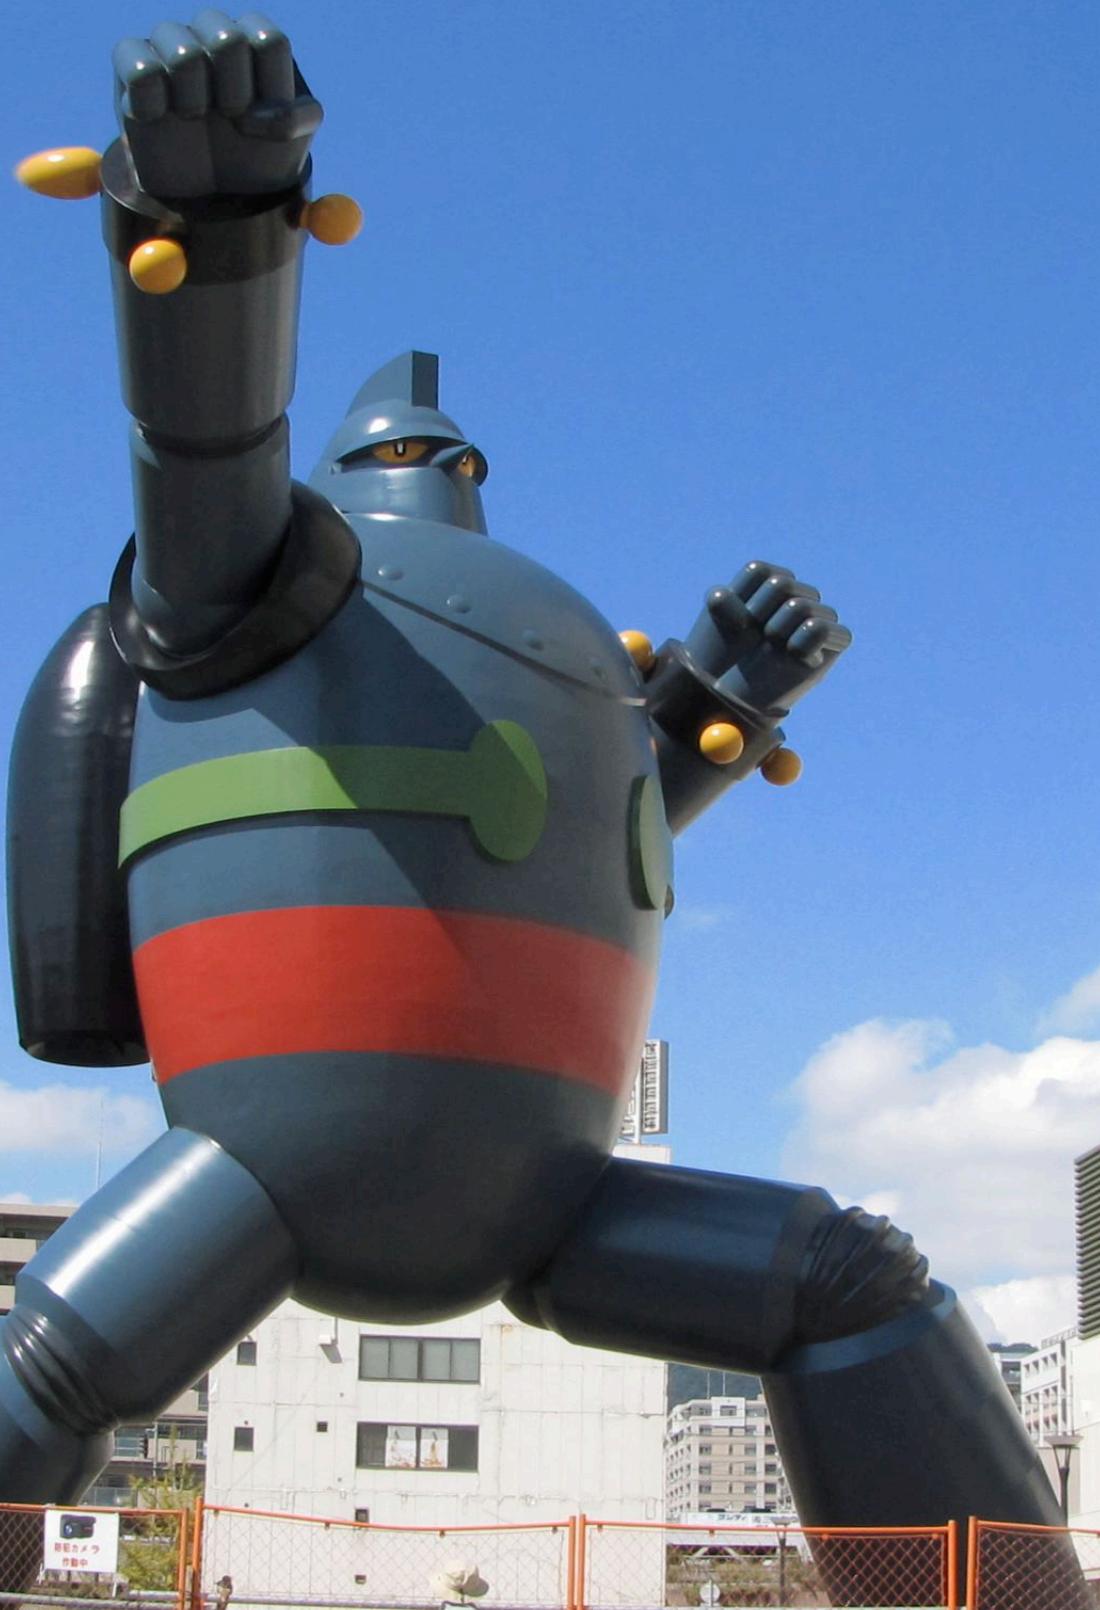

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

キヤッセ! ルスに注意!
言葉たまに押
売り強要!
催眠商法に注意!

閉
ル
メ
ア
作
動
中

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

キャッチセールスにご注意下さい!
言葉たのみに押売り強要
催眠商法にご注意!

安全第一

安全第一

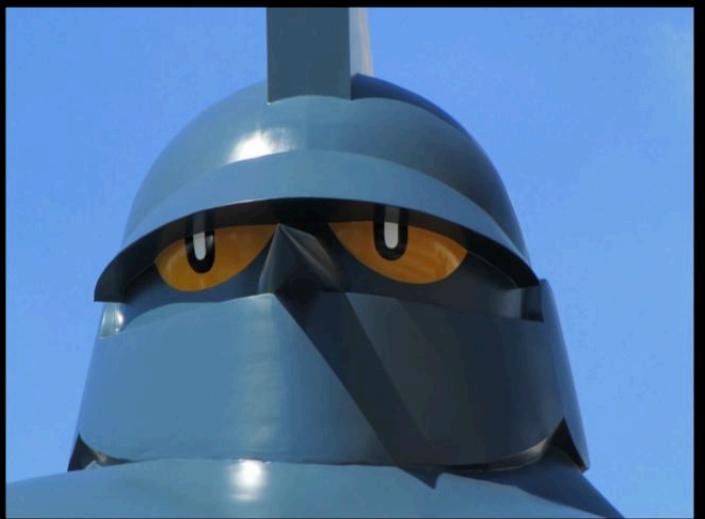

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

安全第一

Kobe City's "Tetsujin-28 Go"

zichi lorentz 2009